ABOUT

Senior at Clarksville High School, Tennessee. Three-year varsity outfielder with a quick first step, plus-plus speed, and a .521 OBP. I started t-ball at four and have played some form of the outfield ever since. What I love more than the games is the work nobody sees: 6:00 a.m. tee work, sprint ladders before practice, sitting with Coach Daley pulling apart last night's GameChanger feed. I'm looking for a college program where I can play center field and study business or sport management. Outside the field I read more than people expect — Daniel Coyle, Atul Gawande, lately Moneyball. I'm also conversational in Spanish, decent with Excel, and I run a small bat-resale business that pays for tournaments.
